Reviews and Ratings

Over the years, Naxos recordings have received outstanding critical acclaim in virtually every specialized and general-interest publication around the world. In this catalogue we are only listing ratings which summarize a more detailed review in a single number or a single rating. Our recordings receive favourable reviews in many other publications which, however, do not use a simple, easy to understand rating system.

Penguin Guide: More than half of all current Naxos recordings are included in various editions of the authoritative Penguin Guide. The very highest rating is *** with a  awarded only to recordings of exceptional quality. Otherwise, the ** rating is the highest awarded to other recordings ... it means that a recording features an outstanding performance and has equally outstanding sound. Brackets around one star signify a slight reservation regarding either sound or performance. In this catalogue we only list the  ** and ** recordings although many more of our recordings also received * ratings, indicating a good performance and recording of today's normal high standard.

 PG *** A recording in a very special class

 PG @*** An outstanding performance and recording in every way

Gramophone: This is the oldest monthly British magazine devoted to recorded music. It does not have a rating system and we can therefore only indicate which of our Naxos recordings were included in the monthly Editor's Choice category and which were pronounced Disc of the Month.

BBC Music Magazine: Unlike Gramophone, the BBC Music Magazine is not primarily a publication devoted to recorded music but to music in general (as its title indicates). Nevertheless, the publication has been increasing its coverage of classical and other recordings and must now be considered a serious rival to Gramophone. The highest rating given to a recording is ☆ outstanding.

Diapason: This is the French equivalent of Gramophone but extensively covers live in addition to recorded music. It accords recordings ratings from one to five tuning forks (diapasons). A select few recordings are awarded a Diapason d'Or.

FOREWORD BY KLAUS HEYMANN

When I started the Naxos label 20 years ago I had no great ambitions other than making classical recordings available on CD at a price comparable to that of LPs. Not in my wildest dreams did I expect Naxos to become the world's leading label for classical repertoire. In many countries, including the UK, it is also now the best-selling classical label.

And Naxos is no longer just a 'budget' label - it was named The 2005 Label of the Year at the 2005 Gramophone/Classic FM Awards, and in February 2006, the Naxos recording of William Bolcom's Songs of Innocence and of Experience won three GRAMMY Awards.

As of January 2006, our catalogue comprises over 3,000 releases and we add about fifteen new releases every month. By the end of 2007, our catalogue will be close to 3,400 recordings, offering music lovers a veritable encyclopedia of classical music.

As important as sheer breadth of choice is the quality of the offering. After all, one's natural love of a bargain is always tempered by the suspicion of possible corner cutting. With us you can purchase with utter confidence. Look at the reviews and you'll see that Naxos enjoys immense critical respect. More than 500 Penguin Guide 3-star recommendations and over 100 "Editor's Choices" in The Gramophone magazine attest to that as do the thousands of enthusiastic letters and emails we receive every year.

So, how do we manage to issue brand new recordings at less than half the price of full-price recordings? Particularly, one wonders, since we work with many of the same orchestras as other independent record companies, employ some of the same producers and engineers and thus have costs similar to most other record companies. The answer is simple: our consumer-friendly price and wide distribution allow us to spread that recording cost across 20,000 to 30,000 copies.

A sense of adventure keeps us all fresh and innovative too. In addition to superb new versions of the established core classics, we have made remarkable treasures accessible to adventurous music lovers - from British String Quartets to Japanese Classical Favourites, from 20th Century American Music to symphonies of the 18th Century that had never been recorded before. I hope we never lose the joy of discovering something new and remarkable.

In fact, a key benefit to music of the Naxos approach is that works once considered unusual, such as a Glass Violin Concerto or the Hummel Masses [which our affiliated publishing company, Artaria Editions, also published], can actually become popular enough to enter the mainstream repertoire, and of that I confess to being very proud.

Naxos is a label created, developed, marketed and distributed by music lovers on behalf of other music lovers and yes, we are serious about our music. Of course, we know that a responsible market leader must do everything possible to develop the market as a whole. To this end, we invest heavily in educational projects to build tomorrow's audience. Entire series are now devoted to this, including our prestigious 4-CD sets, each devoted to the "Life and Works" of a great composer. Our "Opera Explained" audiobooks combine music and commentary to intelligent effect, and we offer a 7-CD set devoted to The Instruments of the Orchestra.

Another telling example of our intent to broaden and develop our remit is the commissioning of Sir Peter Maxwell Davies to write 10 "Naxos Quartets", the first of which appeared in late 2004, in a ground-breaking venture which sees a composer writing and naming a series of works after a label.

That passion to develop the market extends to technology too, and here we have a significant lead over others. Naxos is the only label, major or independent, to have released important titles in three different formats, CD, DVD-A and hybrid SACD.

We are likewise investing in exciting new digital delivery formats with our Naxos Music Library which enables a university library or music faculty to offer students complete unlimited access to all 90,000 Naxos and Marco Polo tracks [and the tracks of many independent labels, as well] at the click of a mouse. Naxos Radio (available from the website, www.naxos.com) enables a subscriber to enjoy 60 channels of streamed classical music through a computer for 24 hours a day at a very modest cost. In fact, the way we are able to distribute music is undergoing exciting changes: for instance, the time is not far off where you could be filling up your MP3 player at a kind of musical gas station, most likely your favourite retailer. The Naxos instinct for innovation ensures that it will continue as what the Los Angeles Times has called an "industry leader" in the digital distribution of music.

We continue to invest a great deal of effort and money into www.naxos.com with a highly sophisticated database that allows unprecedented access to information about musical works and enables the visitor to the site to find all 90,000 tracks in our catalogues. Those who subscribe to the site can also listen to every single track. Our website also offers information about other independent CD and DVD labels, making it a veritable portal for the world of recorded classical music.

Our dedication to classical music has been rewarded with unprecedented acclaim from the media but also, and more importantly, from our customers.

Given the quality and breadth of Naxos releases, there's always a reason to go back to Naxos every month. Where else today can one enjoy such an extraordinary musical adventure for such a modest outlay?
